

HOW TO MAKE A CELTIC ARMLET FROM CLAY

1. Print and cut out the black and white armlet design to use as a model. Lay it on top of a piece of rolled out air-drying clay, and cut around it.
2. Using a modelling tool, cut through the paper template to mark where the lines and shapes go. Then lift off the template.
3. Roll a little more clay into lines and curves and stick these on where you have marked them on your flat armlet.
4. Very carefully, lift up your armlet and bend it into a semi-circle. Leave it to dry out completely. You may want to curve it round some scrunched up tissue paper or newspaper to help it keep its shape while it dries. When completely dry, paint it with bronze-coloured paint, let the paint dry, then try it on!
